ATTORNEYS WERE ANGRY

Controversy Interrupts the Progress of the Sherman Case.

The Defendant on Cross-Examination Fails to Remember Many Things.

After the disposition of some little ex-parte business Monday morning the hearing in the Sherman murder case was resumed.

Sherman again took the stand and generally testified that he had the small pox in 1903 and that his wife cared for and nursed him. He repeated the story of the crime but could not say how the victim got the front part of her head mashed, how her nose was mashed in or her left eye turned in its socket. He did not know how she received the cuts in her back, on her face and elsewhere. Did not remember anything about it. Did not remember how he struck her in the back. Did not know how it came that his memory was so clear on some points and so poor on others. Did not know that the hatchet was covered with hair and blood or whose it was if so covered. Did not know what part of the hatchet she hit him with.
It made a pretty good sized bruise.
Did not remember of cutting her at all.
Did not know or remember how her arms were bruised. Did not remember of her saying, "Oh! don't do it!" or of saying anything. Did not remember of telling a policeman that she said it when he hit her with the chair.
Did not remember how blood marks came to be on the walls or of any statements made to anybody concerning the crime.

He did not remember that the coroner came to him at the hospital the next day and asked him to sign a statement and that his attorney had been there that day and had told him to keep his mouth shut.

At this point the prosecutor read from the written report of the coroner as to the conversation had with Sherman on the night of the crime and the defense objected.

The prosecutor asked court to excuse the jury for a few minutes as he desired to make a statement to the court.
The jury was excused and the prosecutor, addressing the court, said that he desired to object to the continual, unwarranted and uncalled for interruptions of his cross examination by the counsel for defense.

It was a continual nagging, nagging, objection and the like, and all done for one purpose and pursuant to one scheme—to afford Sherman time to frame up his answers to the questions put to him. The prosecutor said he was trying to conduct the case fairly and honorably, but he most strenuously objected to being harassed and impeded without cause and he asked for the protection of the court.

Attorney Bickley, of the defense, replied that it was unfortunate for Butler county and the State of Ohio that they were compelled to have a prosecutor who was unable to conduct his own case, frame a question intelligently and put it in the proper form.
It was unfortunate that on account of the insufficiency and inability of the prosecuting attorney, whether from ignorance or lack of knowledge of his case that he was unable to properly conduct the case, but had to rely upon the assistance of the court. He had treated both the court and the defense with discourtesy and disrespect, but while this case was in progress Bickley proposed to see that the conduct of the prosecutor toward him came well within the rules of evidence and the confines of law.

"And if he wishes to see me on any other matters," added Mr. Bickley warmly, "he can see me any day on the outside."

The prosecutor rose to his feet and exclaimed:

"As to the remarks of counsel, may it please your honor," he said, "I consider the source. I feel sorry for him. I positively feel sorry for him," but at this point the court intervened, the jury was called back, the objections of the defense was overruled and the examination proceeded.

Sherman said that after he hit his wife she said to him, "I'll get you yet!" but nothing further was said by him to her or her to him.

Upon the conclusion of Sherman's cross examination the defense introduced a Mrs. Help, George Bankramp and C. J. Smith in proof of character, etc., and the defense rested. It was expected that the case would be closed and go to the jury this evening.

FRATERNAL NEWS AT ARLINGTON.

The secret societies of Arlington are having a most phenomenal growth.
On Wednesday evening the Red Men will have four candidates for the Adoption degree and several for the Warriors degree.

On Friday evening, the Rushville degree staff of the Odd Fellows will go to Arlington to confer the second and third degrees upon several candidates. A good time is promised.

An application for a charter for a Pocahontas Tepee is almost ready to send in.

A Haymakers' Loft is being organized, and now has eighteen names on the charter list.

The Rebekah lodge is in a fine condition and having much work.

The fraternal insurance orders are doing well and have frequent accessions to their numbers.

TO BE TRIED ON FRIDAY

Crim Brothers Charged With Keeping a Gaming
House.

Marshall Craig and Policeman Gordon yesterday served warrants preferred by one Goff, on George, Charles and William Crim, at the Rushville Restaurant, and charging them with running a gaming house in the rear of the restaurant. The men were taken before Mayor Hall and plead not guilty. Their trial has been set for Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Goff, the young man who preferred the charge, it is said, was formerly employed at the Crim restaurant.

HELD BUT ONE.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 7.—Justice of the Peace Oliver McLahlan has given his decision in the case of Frank Evans and Elmer Browning, who were before him for preliminary hearing on charge of murdering Sarah C. Schafer at this city more than a year ago. Evans was released and Browning was sent to the grand jury. Practically the only evidence against Browning was that of "Dude" Cook, chief witness for the state, who said that Browning told her he and Evans waylaid Miss Schafer and that Evans killed her.

A GREAT SPEECH

Mr. Beveridge Receives Warm Applause in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The long drawn out general debate on the bill creating two states out of the territories of Oklahoma and Indian territory, and New Mexico and Arizona, was concluded with a speech by Mr.
Beveridge who held the close attention of the senate for four hours. He reviewed the principle arguments in opposition to the bill, giving special attention to the proposition to unite Arizona and New Mexico. He closed amid a burst of applause from the galleries.

Previous to Mr. Beveridge's speech Mr. Foraker spoke in support of his amendment to eliminate Arizona and New Mexico from the proposition. The only other important business of the day was the receipt through the house managers of the house replication to Judge Swayne's answer in the impeachment trial.

ARLINGTON TO BE BOOMED

Citizens of That Little Town are Elated Over Advent of Traction Line.

The Merchants are Refunding
the Fares to Their Customers.

Our neighboring little town of Arlington is to be boomed this summer.
The citizens of Arlington are very much elated over the advent of the traction line and they believe that it means much in the way of improving their little city. Consequently those people owning land along the traction line are planning to lay off their ground in lots which they will sell.
If their expectations are realized Arlington will spread for a considerable distance both east and west during the year.

Among the men who will lay off some of their land into lots are Jesse Price, Samuel Sheppard and John Moore.

The citizens are talking the matter up and some have suggested that the town be incorporated. From the present indications it is very probable that a meeting will be held some time this spring at which steps will be taken toward having the matter accomplished.

Arlington merchants are already beginning to benefit by the traction line. Ira Allenthorp and others of the merchants are completing arrangements whereby their customers who come in on the traction line will be allowed a reduction on goods sold to them in an amount equal to the fare paid. This is one thing in which the Arlington merchants have bested those in Rushville.

EXEMPTION LAW.

Rushville and Rush county property owners, who have been taking advantage of the mortgage exemption law, have been interested in the measures before the legislature to have the limits raised beyond $700. One bill provided for the limit to be $1000; another $1200 and a third $1500. The committee having the bill under consideration decided to "kill" them all and the exemption law will remain as it has heretofore, the limit being $700.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

Several Matters of Interest to be Considered—the Telephone Question.

The city council will meet tonight in regular session and will have a number of matters of importance to consider. The report of the various committees will be heard and other matters pertaining to the regular business will come up.

The question of granting a franchise to the Spiceland Co-operative Telephone company will come up for final consideration, and the question of a larger or at least a more efficient police force is expected to come up also.

A petition, signed by almost every business and professional man in the city will probably be presented to council asking that the telephone franchise be not granted.

The sentiment throughout the city seems to be almost entirely against the granting of the franchise. Many people believe that if a franchise is granted at all, it should be sold and not given away.

Several other matters of importance are likely to come up.
As there has not been a meeting of the council for three weeks, there has been an accumulation of business and a busy session is promised.

BIG SHORTAGE.

The Precipitation is the U. S. For January Was Only 124 Inches.

The first month of the new year has passed into history and it failed to make up the deficiency in rainfall that had existed for months previous.
The total precipitation for the month of January was 1.34 inches, or about 2 inches short of the normal. The "wetness" was mostly snow in January, the rain being confined to a few days during the thirty-one. The second day of the month saw the heaviest precipitation.

SOME CHANGES IN CERTAIN LAWS.

Among the interesting bills introduced in the legislature last week are:
Raising township trustee's salaries from $2 to $3 a day.

To make the county prosecutor appear for saloon remonstrators.

Raising mortgage exemption from $700 to $1500.

Prohibiting tax ferrets to go back more than three years in decedent's estate prior to death.

To compel saloons to do away with screens.

To abolish days of grace on notes.
Providing a four year term for school superintendents in cities over 3000.

Fixing compensation of court bailiff at $75 per month.

TO OBSERVE PYTHIAN DAY

Supreme Chancellor Shiveley
Has Issued a Bulletin
to All the Lodges.

Charles E. Shiveley, of Richmond, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, has issued the following:

"February 19th, 1905, will be the forty-first anniversary of the order of Knights of Pythias. I earnestly urge that every subordinate lodge in some way observe that event. Let brotherly love, good fellowship, Pythian education and charity mark the forty-first mile stone of one of the greatest fraternal organizations now in existence."

In His Mother's Defense.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 7.—To release his mother from the clutches of a drunken man who was choking her, Lee F. Magnus, the fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. Ida Magnus, placed a pistol against the head of Ward B.
Ingan, his parent's assailant, and blew out the man's brains. The boy was placed under arrest, but several prominent city officials immediately gave bail for him and he was released.

Boys Under Serious Charge.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 7.—John Kyle and Porter Laird, thirteen and fifteen years old respectively, of Hoopeston, have been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murder. Laird and Kyle with two other boys broke a switch-lock and derailed a Chicago & Eastern Illinois freight train last August, killing Brakeman Frame and injuring other members of the train crew.

Atlanta Ice Bound.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 7.—Never before in the history of Atlanta has the ice king had such a firm grip on the city as at present. Traffic is completely at a standstill. It either has been raining or sleeting since Friday afternoon. Today three inches of solid ice covers the streets. The telephone and telegraph service is badly crippled. Every wire between here and New Orleans is down.

Banker Under Arrest.

Minneapolis, Feb. 7.—Thomas H.
Clement of the First National bank of Faribault has been arrested on the charge of misappropriating $21,000 of the bank's funds.

INSTITUTION FOR INSANE

Bill for New Institution Was Special Order in Senate
Today.

This Measure Will Probably Pass
the House as it Has Strong Backing.

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—The Newhouse bill for the establishment of a new hospital for the insane in southeastern Indiana was a special order of business in the senate today. A canvass among the members showed over forty to favor it, thus insuring its passage. The Roche bill to punish the vote buyer instead of the vote seller was also a special order in the senate
today.

The senate has passed the Purviance bill for a state hospital for epileptics. The bills for the epileptics and insane hospital carry an appropriation aggregating $700,000. The appropriation requested for the colony for epileptics is $150,000, which, however, is intended only as a starter. The original bill for a new hospital for the insane contained a request for an appropriation of $500,000, but $60,000 will probably be added on recommendation of Governor Hanly and others who have carefully studied the needs of the situation.

The epileptic bill was passed by a vote of 37 to 5 after it had been amended in a number of particulars.
It will probably pass the house, as there is a sentiment there favorable to
it. Senator Parks, a Republican leader, said he would not support the bill because he was informed by a member of the finance committee that the new institution cannot be erected without increasing the tax levy. The members of the legislature are being informed that to build a hospital for the epileptics and the insane it will be necessary to increase the levy.
This feature of the legislation will have to originate in the house.

The house spent almost an entire day considering the codification commission's new criminal code. Amendments covering several typewritten pages, several prepared by the commission itself, were presented. Representative Dausman, chairman of the criminal code committee, had charge of the bill on the floor. An amendment abolishing the law defining penalties was adopted after a heated discussion.

An amendment to prevent the drainage of salt or sulphur waters, dyestuffs, acids, coal tar or oil into running streams or lakes was lost. Representative Shively of South Bend opposed it vigorously on behalf of the oil men, saying it would practically ruin half of the crude oil business of the state. An amendment defining libel and making libel a felony punishable by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $1,000, to which six months imprisonment in the county jail may be added, was adopted. A new section was inserted in the code providing a penalty for transporting the carcass of a diseased hog over a public highway. An amendment making the fee of non-resident hunters $25 instead of $15 was adopted.

Senator Wickwire's bill for taxation of incomes and legacies has been advanced to third reading. Senator Singer's bill giving county councils authority to fix the number of days county assessors shall serve, was killed.

Senator Slack made a determined attack on two bills introduced by Senator Moore of Connersville, directed against the alleged combine among the big printing establishments of the state. The bills were introduced on behalf of the country editors and printers, to give them a chance to bid on contracts for various supplies.

Senator Stephenson's bill to raise the limit of mortgage exemption from $700 to $1,200, and Senator Wood's bill increasing the pay of jurors from $2 to $3 and mileage from 5 to 10 cents a mile, were advanced to third reading.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell committed suicide here. When they were found she was dead and he was dying. They had taken corrosive sublimate. He died shortly after. It is generally believed that their deaths are the result of a suicide pact. He was twenty-seven years of age and she was twenty-one.
According to the stories of neighbors they were happy and very devoted to each other. No cause is known for the rash deed.

HE DENIES IT.

Charles L. Henry Says He is Not Interested in Southern Roads.

According to the Indianapolis News Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, says there is no truth whatever in the reports that have been circulated to the effect that he is back of various interurban projects in the Southern part of the country. He says the only line he is back of is the Indianapolis & Cincinnati and its branches. There have been numerous reports, especially from New Orleans and Nashville, that Mr. Henry is promoting various traction enterprises, including several out of Nashville and one between Mobile and New Orleans.
According to these reports, Mr. Henry, who is referred to as the promoter of all traction lines in Indiana, is contemplating a series of lines that will make the South resemble a mosquito netting.

ROOTS AT HOME.

(Connersville News.)

After an absence of more than a month in Eastern cities, Hon. F. T.
Roots, is again at his office at the Trust bank. The general understanding that Mr. Mason, of Berlin, will succeed Mr. Gowdy at Paris lessened Mr. Roots' interest in personal politics at this time, but he has had remarkable success in a business way, during his absence. He became a member of the Sphinx club, of New York, a body noted for its exclusiveness and which he was twice called upon to address.
Banquets given by the club are remarkable for their lavish spender.

EVANSVILLE GETS WAGNER

Popular Rushville Pitcher Has Signed in the Central League.

Eddie Wagner, the popular Indianapolis boy who pitched such good ball for Rushville last season, has finally landed a berth in the League company.

Last week he was assigned by Manager Ryan of the Evansville Central League club and will receive a tryout with that team early in the coming season. Wagner is a south paw and is a pitcher of merit. Manager Geraghty, of the local club, who recommended him and others think that he will make good.

MRS. STEVENS IN FIRST PLACE

Rush County's Candidate is Now in the Lead in the Voting Contest.

Mrs. John M. Stevens, of this city, Rush county's candidate in the Commercial Tribune's voting contest for a trip to Europe moved to first place this morning. The result of the ballotting is now as follows: Miss Elizabeth Norvell, Shelbyville, 998; Mrs.
Anna Spolsky, Shelbyville, 2305; Mrs.
Leah Connaway, Liberty, 333; Mrs.
John M. Stevens, Rushville, 2528.

James Mooney, attached to the Smithsonian bureau of ethnology, sees a hopeless future for the Indian, among whom he has spent the greater portion of his life. He believes that it is practically impossible to civilize the Indian; that having no ambition for improvement or progress, they will continue in their present State dying out in numbers till they become simply roving bands.

NOTES AT THE COURT HOUSE

Oglesby Case is Argued in the Circuit Court—Other Cases Disposed of.

County Commissioners Grant a Liquor License to James Barrett.

In the circuit court this forenoon, Judge Sparks heard the arguments in the case of J. E. Oglesby vs. the U.
S. Express company et al.

In the case of Ora W. Herkless vs.
Frank Zornes et al. on a ditch contract, the court sustained the demurrer to the answer and the defendants filed their answer to the general denial.

In the case of Joel Kirkwood vs.
Walter Peters on a note, the defendant defaulted and after hearing the evidence judgment was rendered against him.

The case of Emily J. Newlin et al.
vs. William Frame on mortgage, was dismissed at the plaintiff's cost.

The case of the First National Bank of Connersville vs. Griffiths, a motion to distribute funds, which was venued from Fayette county, was argued this afternoon.

Joseph T. McBride today filed a claim against the estate of Mary A.
McBride, deceased.

In the county commissioners' court
a liquor license was granted to James Barrett.

The child, Gordon E. Stevens, which is on the hands of the county, is in need of surgical attention and the commissioners voted to appropriate sixty dollars toward placing the child in Sexton's sanitarium and having it properly treated.

An allotment in the David Kirkpatrick et al. ditch was awarded to Levy Sexton at the assessed value.

The county commissioners will visit the White orphan asylum at Wapash next week to inquire into the welfare of the Rush county children. It is commonly reported that the children will be returned to Spiceland, where they will be given into the charge of Mrs. Bundy, formerly of this city.

That solid silver statue on a base of gold, which attracted much attention at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893, supposedly containing about $60,000 worth of silver and the base about $300,000 worth of gold, and which has since been on exhibition in various parts of the country, has been broken up as the result of a law suit and found to be mostly a hollow sham.
It comes pretty nearly making a record as the best sustained fake ever paraded before the country.

WHAT

PEOPLE SAY

This is said to have actually occurred in a North Main Street home:
They were seated in the parlor and there was a hitch in the conversation.
He seemed a trifle nervous, and she seemed a trifle bored. Finally he said: "What a lovely evening for a walk." "Indeed it is," she replied.
"Would you like to take a walk?"
"Above all things," he assented eagerly.
"Then why don't you," she queried.

RUSHVILLE, IND. FEB. 7, 1905.

The newspaper men of the Pacific coast are passing around a bit of alleged news to the purport that a leading orchardist has made arrangements to import five hundred trained monkeys from Panama, which he will muzzle and train and put to work in his orchard. It is said that the labor agitators have taken the idea seriously, and are entering their protests against employment of this new kind of foreign labor.

Several papers tried to criticize Mr. Jas. E. Watson on account of his recent effort to take the rural carriers from the civil service list, and it is no doubt referring to this when the Richmond Palladium says "Those who are his enemies may try to belittle Congressman Watson, but the sneers and jeers of the narrow-minded will have no weight, for no man stands higher, or no man is looked up to more in the House of Representatives than is Mr. Watson. His magnetic presence and Ciceronian eloquence win people to him in every walk of life."

It is often pointed to that there would be fewer divorces if there were fewer hasty, careless and ill-considered marriages to begin with. A case in the State of Washington illustrates the spirit of the times. Not long since a youth of 20 of Monroe City in that State, and a girl of 18, of Petersburg, a high school graduate, through a friend succeeded in getting a license to get married. They sought the services of a minister, and the services had proceeded to the point where the reverend gentleman had asked the couple to join hands. At this point the prospective bride put in a question: "Say, if I get married and don't like it, I can quit if I want to, can't I?" The good minister was thunderstruck, but informed her that such was not the case; that she was taking the obligation for life. The girl then turned to the expectant and embarrassed groom-to-be and remarked: "It's all off, kid; I ain't going to do it." And the couple left the parsonage. If the people who get married with the idea in the back of their heads that they can get divorced if they find marriage bores them—if these people are made to understand that divorce is not to be granted for trivial causes or through caprice, marriages through caprice will soon diminish.

INTERESTING CONTEST

Succession to Senator-Elect Hemenway's Seat Causes Speculation.

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—Republican leaders from Evansville who are here visiting the Vanderburgh county members of the legislature expressed the opinion that a special election will be called early in April to elect a successor in congress to James A. Hemenway, United States senator-elect. Mr. Hemenway will not resign until after the end of his present term, March 4. It is said that Representatives Darby and Schreder and Senator Durre of Evansville, favor the nomination of George A. Cunningham as Mr. Hemenway's successor. Cunningham is district chairman. Mr. Hemenway expects to keep his hands out of the fight. Colonel Frank B. Posey of Evansville is also a candidate, but he is not being advocated by the members of the legislature from his own county. Senator Durre says that Mr. Cunningham will undoubtedly be elected. A party leader from Booneville says that Mr. Hemenway's county will divide its vote equally between Mr. Cunningham, Colonel Posey and John W. Brady of Princeton, the third candidate. The Warrick county Republicans have been cautioned by Mr. Hemenway's friends not to take a hand for either candidate lest their action be regarded as an indication of his personal choice.

The anti-cigarette lobby has transferred its operations to the house, where it bids fair to push the Parks bill through with a majority to spare. Chairman Morton of the committee on public morals said today that he does not doubt that it will be passed by the house. The bill is arousing great interest throughout the entire state. The ministers are beginning to preach sermons in its behalf and hundreds of public men who are against the cigarette habit have taken up the fight. The agents of the big tobacco trusts are here fighting the measure, but not with the chance of success they boasted of when it was introduced. The statement made by some of them that the bill is not constitutional has brought a reply from Senator Parks, who says that it is similar to the Tennessee anti-cigarette law, which was upheld by the supreme court of the United States.

Senator Will R. Wood of Lafayette will call up his garnishee bill on second reading tomorrow or Thursday. It looks as if the bill will be killed, but he is making a hard fight for it. Officials of a number of the large railroad systems in Indiana have joined hands with their employees in opposing the bill, and it is said that the Indiana Retail Merchants' association will retaliate by helping the labor organizations obtain the re-enactment of the weekly wage law. The railroads object to the garnishee proceedings that are brought against their employees by collection agencies outside the state which buy up small accounts and give them much annoyance. The retail merchants are anxious that the weekly wage law be restored so that the employees of the big corporations that pay monthly may settle accounts at the end of each week.

The Newhouse bill for compulsory vaccination will not be passed. Senator Hancock of Jeffersonville, chairman of the senate committee on public health, said today that he favors it and that other members of the committee are with him, but they think the sentiment throughout the state against it is so strong that it should not be recommended for passage. Senator Newhouse will drop the matter, although fully convinced that the proposed reform is necessary. The bill will be reported for indefinite postponement.

Governor Hanly, who has been sick for the last ten days, is still confined to his bed at the Claypool hotel. His condition caused the members of his family and his associates considerable alarm, but he is now improving. His physician hopes that he will be able to resume his duties at the statehouse by Thursday or Friday.

"THE OPPOSITION"

Minority Party Again Goes on Record as Party of Resistance.

RATE BILL DISCUSSED

Important Preliminary Action Taken on This Vital Measure by a Strict Party Vote.

The Resistance of the Opposition Was Not of the Sort to Attract a Following.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Following weeks of hearings and consideration by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce as well as urgent recommendation of the president on the subject, the house of representatives began debating the proposed legislation looking to the regulation of railway freight rates. This action was taken only after determined opposition by the Democrats led by John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, to the adoption of a rule which would shut out opportunity to amend the bill.

Two Republicans, Messrs. Southwick and Vreeland of New York, voted against the rule, and one Democrat, Gaines of Tennessee, voted for it. Otherwise party lines were tightly drawn.

In criticizing the committee on rules for shutting off all opportunity for amendment Mr. Williams contended that if that opportunity were given the Democrats had with them a sufficient number of Republicans to pass a bill embodying in all its particulars the views of the president. He offered to surrender all the time allotted to his side for debate as well as to forego a vote on the minority substitute if amendments would be allowed to be offered, but the appeal was refused by the majority. Mr. DeArmond of Missouri charged that the right to amend had been denied "in the narrowness of shallow partisanship." The fairness of the rule to all members was declared by Mr. Dalzell to be apparent since it afforded full opportunity to vote on both bills offered by the two parties. The rule also was defended by Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio).

Messrs. Townsend (Mich.), one of the authors of the bill under consideration, and Richardson (Ala.) occupied much time in discussing it, both sounding a note of warning to the railroads that unless they joined hands with congress in the matter the people would demand more drastic legislation.

Before taking up the question of freight rates, the house adopted the replication of the committee of seven managers to the reply of Judge Swayne to the impeachment charges, in which it was reiterated that Judge Swayne is guilty of the crimes alleged against him.

Legislative Bribery Charged.
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—Representative W. S. Lorton testified before the house investigating committee yesterday afternoon that an attempt had been made to bribe him in connection with the Democratic minority leadership of the house. He named Richard F. Kinsella, a prominent Democratic politician of Sangamon county, as the man who made the attempt. Lorton's statement that Kinsella had attempted to bribe him was flatly denied by Mr. Kinsella. The latter admitted that he asked Lorton to vote a certain way, but denied having offered any money for doing so.

Conspiracy Is Alleged.
New York, Feb. 7.—On summons secured by James S. Metcalfe, a dramatic critic, Daniel Frohman, Oscar Hammerstein, Marc Klaw, Abraham L. Erlanger, Al Hyman and Charles W. Burnham, theater managers, appeared in police court for examination to determine whether they have entered into an unlawful conspiracy to exclude Metcalfe from their theaters. Decision was deferred.

New York, Feb. 7.—When Johann Hoch was arraigned in court in the expectation that he would be turned over to officers from Chicago it was found that the extradition papers had not arrived and he was remanded to police headquarters.

Will Try New Law.
Rising Sun, Ind., Feb. 7.—It is the understanding that Myron and Mrs. Carrie Barbour and Mrs. Belle Seward, co-defendants in the Gillespie murder case, will be called for trial during the March term of court. It is also said that advantage will be taken of the new law permitting talesmen to be selected from adjoining counties in case it is impossible to secure a competent jury in Ohio county.

Wayward Girl's Suicide.
Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 7.—Edna Raugh, nineteen years old, committed suicide by swallowing strychnine. Before death she stated that upon visiting her parents at Romona they had spurned her because of the life she was living here and she was despondent.

Serious Loss to Church.
Brazil, Ind., Feb. 7.—The First Christian church of this city was almost totally destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $15,000, with insurance of $10,000.

A QUIET SESSION

Old Law Maker Says He Never Saw Anything Like Present General Assembly.

THE RECORD FOR PLACIDITY

Warren Sayre, Out of a Wealth of Experience, Says This Session is the Quietest He Ever Knew—Governor Hanly's Firm Attitude Has Marked Influence on Legislation—What the Legislature Has Been Doing the Past Week.

[Special Correspondence.]
Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—"This is the quietest session of the legislature I have ever known anything about," is the statement of the veteran law-maker, Warren G. Sayre of Wabash. Mr. Sayre's personal knowledge of the doings of legislatures runs back to the 80's, when he was a speaker of the house. So it may safely be assumed that in the matter of placidity the present general assembly breaks all the records of recent years. The selection of two United States senators without a division of sentiment in the majority caucus was in itself an unprecedented performance, and nothing has happened since to mar the harmony of the session or render it notable for any unusual incident. Even the measures which because of their public importance and the sharp division of public opinion upon them, would seem to be freighted with possibilities of contention, have been more the subject of compromise than the occasion for struggle in the committees or on the floor of the house.

The firm and uncompromising attitude of Governor Hanly upon the remonstrance amendment to the Nicholson law, has been the most potent influence in forcing the Moore bill toward passage. The enactment of this amendment will be the most important step in temperance legislation taken since the enactment of the present liquor law. The Moore amendment is no departure from the spirit of the Nicholson law, but only carries out a purpose of the framers of that bill. It merely makes it certain that the question of saloon or no saloon in any given township will be determined by the exercise of public opinion, and that there will be no wearing out of remonstrants by persistent and unwelcome applicants for license.

The Governor's Recommendation.

The conditions which created the demand for the Moore bill, which will in all probability become a law before the end of the present week, the Guir bill in the house having been withdrawn in its favor, were well stated by Governor Hanly in his inaugural address. What he had to say on the subject on Jan. 9 is of present interest. "The act of the general assembly known as the 'Nicholson law,'" said the governor, "was enacted in answer to the demands of an aroused, an enlightened and righteous public sentiment. In the main it is a good law and ought to be permitted to stand. When the statute was enacted the boards of commissioners could hold regular sessions but once in three months. Thus applications were limited to the four quarterly sessions of such boards held within each year. Such boards are now required to meet in regular session once each month. The effect of this change in the law has been to make it possible for an application to be filed every thirty days. This brings the question of remonstrance before the people twelve times a year. A remonstrance carrying the necessary majority to prevent the granting of a license is filed today and the license is defeated. If a new remonstrance is filed and the second applicant is defeated, the same performance is enacted by someone else, and so on month after month and year after year, until, worn out and discouraged, the people are defeated and the will of the majority is overborne. This condition is intolerable and ought not to continue. The statute should be so amended that the remonstrance provided for shall be against the granting of license to any and all applicants, and where successful, that it shall be unlawful thereafter for the board of commissioners to grant a license to any applicant thereafter during a period of two years from the filing of said remonstrance. I appeal to you and to the great body of the people of Indiana, without regard to party affiliation, to join in an effort to secure the amendment suggested."

The Administration's Policy.

The signing of the Moore bill by the governor will mark the fulfillment of the first purpose in the matter of legislation expressed in the message of Governor Hanly. Other features of the administration's program are being pushed rapidly and certainly toward the statute books. The compromises effected upon the railroad commission bill make it seem likely that it will go through both houses without serious disagreement. The house ways and means committee has recommended an appropriation of a half million dollars for the erection of an additional hospital for the insane, and without much doubt a hospital for epileptics will also be provided.

Governor Hanly carried on his fight for the Moore bill from a sickbed through his secretary and close personal friend, Union B. Hunt. Efforts were made to force him from the position he had assumed, but the firmness with which he stood by what he believed to be the right is characteristic of the man. The governor, by the way, will find it necessary to conserve his health throughout the session. He has not yet recovered from the physical strain of his remarkable speaking campaign of last year, in which he sacrificed his personal comfort and tempted endurance in the fulfillment of a desire to meet as many as possible of the demands made upon him for speeches in behalf of the cause for which he stood. The iron constitution of the new chief executive is expected soon to assert itself, however, and make it possible for him to be actively in the executive chair during the concluding days of the session.

A Busy Week.

Last week was a busy one with the general assembly. Quite a number of bills have reached a stage where their prospects for finding a place in the Acts of 1905 are promising. The governor's table will become the repository for a number of important measures before the end of the week, and the legislature having got a good running start, the output of measures for executive consideration from now on will be continuous. It is unlikely that the present general assembly will vary from the rule established not only in Indiana but in every state, of completing the larger part of its work in the last few days of the session, leaving the governor to struggle with a great mass of proposed legislation during the several days which are given to him for final action after the legislature has adjourned.

Institutional Legislation.

The bill for the relocation of the institution for the education of the deaf and dumb and that for the separation of the girl's industrial school from the woman's prison, and its relocation on the site already purchased northwest of Indianapolis, have passed the senate. The senate has also passed a bill to replace the contract labor system with trade schools at the Indiana reformatory. In these trade schools it is proposed not only to give industrial training to the young men there confined, but to manufacture supplies for the counties, townships and public institutions of the state. It is estimated that in due time the financial return from this system will be quite as large as that from the existing contracts, while the results will be vastly more advantageous from the standpoint of reformation.

Other Work Accomplished.

In both the house and senate bills have been reported creating a southeastern insane hospital district, comprising the counties south and east of Indianapolis, and making appropriation for the erection of a new hospital within its limits. Already a lively contest is on for the location of this hospital, Madison, Columbus and Seymour all being ready to make a fight for the institution when the commission having in hand its establishment has been created. The senate will pass the Purviance bill providing for an institution for epileptics early in the present week. The idea of relieving the insane hospitals by transferring inmates from these institutions to an epileptic hospital seems to have been abandoned. The new southwestern hospital will, after its completion, solve the problem of the insane in Indiana for some years to come. It will especially relieve the central district. The central hospital at Indianapolis is one of the largest institutions for the insane in the country, and one of the most crowded.

The house ways and means committee has rejected a number of bills providing for monuments, but has favorably recommended an appropriation of $35,000 for the erection of a statue of Oliver P. Morton in the statehouse yard at Indianapolis. The Grand Army of the Republic has been actively urging this action.

Other Important Bills.

Great public interest has centered in the many proposals before the general assembly looking to the improvement of common school conditions. The splendid showing made by the state in its educational exhibit at St. Louis seems to have been an incentive to more liberal provision for the state's educational interests. The plan to increase the state school levy from 11 to 16 cents has failed to receive the approval of the ways and means committee, but it has recommended a general levy of three-fifths of 1 per cent to provide funds to carry on schools in townships which cannot support six months' school and pay the minimum teachers' wage under the present law.

The bills reported by the codification commission in themselves constitute sufficient subject for deliberation throughout the entire session. It is no reflection upon the ability of the members of this commission to say that serious objection has been made to many provisions of the bills reported, because they touch upon questions certain to arouse differences of opinion whenever discussed. Eminent lawyers seem to be unable to agree even as to the effect of certain provisions of some of the proposed measures. The bill on highways has been amended so as to leave to the taxpayer the right to work the roads instead of paying his road taxes in cash, and with this change is likely to become a law. The bill on municipal corporations seem to have an excellent chance of passage, though it is a long ways from the committee-room to the governor's table for a measure in which there is so much difference of opinion. The bill on eminent domain is hanging fire in the house, having been referred back to the committee for amendment. The bill on public corporations has excited a vast amount of discussion. The criminal code bill has been favorably reported in the house, and will probably become a law.

Voting Machines.

It is understood that the committee on elections will report favorably on Representative Branch's bill providing for the use of voting machines throughout the state. A similar bill was presented two years ago, but failed, not because the senators and representatives were opposed to the use of the machine, but because it was thought to be premature, the machine being yet more or less in the stages of experiment. The author of the bill believes that it will meet with favorable consideration at this session. He declares it to be the only way to prevent vote-buying and vote-selling and that it will abolish election frauds and election contests.

Anti-Cigarette Bill.

In the senate on Friday a good many people received a surprise in the vote on the anti-cigarette bill introduced by Senator Parks. This bill provides that it shall be unlawful to manufacture, sell, exchange, give away or even to own cigarettes or "the makings," such as wrappings and cigarette tobacco. The vote was 35 to 7 in favor of the bill. There had been a sort of feeling that the bill was not to be regarded seriously, but the discussion elicited the fact that the use of cigarettes was regarded as one of the great social evils. Whether the bill will find favor in the lower house or not is a question, though among the prophets there are many who believe that it will.

To Regulate Automobiles.

One of the most interesting discussions that has taken place was brought up in the house Friday by the bill of Representative Yencer to govern the operation of automobiles. The bill was advanced to engrossment, but not until it had been amended. One of the amendments provides that when the automobilist meets any person driving cattle or other stock on the public highway he must bring the machine to a stop on a signal from the driver. Another amendment provides for a signal between drivers by which the driver of any vehicle may signal the driver of the machine to come ahead by nodding up his arm. Still another amendment gives cities and towns the power to control and license automobiles within the corporate limits. The bill provides for registration of all automobiles at the office of the secretary of state, the fee being $1. As the bill now stands cities can charge a license fee in addition.

On the public highways the speed limit is twenty miles an hour. In cities or towns fifteen miles an hour except in congested and business parts where the limit shall not be more than ten miles. The bill provides for stops and slowdowns, the occupant of a vehicle drawn by an animal to raise his hand, the penalty for violation for first offense is a fine of not over $25, second offense not less than $25 nor more than $100; third offense not less than $100 nor more than $500.

Railroad Commission.

There will be a railroad commission. There seems to be no question about that. The railroad companies, having foreseen that this was probable, conferred through their representatives with representatives of the shippers and agreed upon a measure which Senator Newhouse declares to be satisfactory. He is the author of the original bill introduced in the senate. The bill provides that the rate fixed by the commission shall become immediately effective unless the railroad company files an appeal. In such a case the railroad company will be required to file a bond which will protect the shippers from loss. In the event of litigation it is to be the duty of the commission to push the case and to represent the shippers.

In case the railroad should appeal from the decision of the commission, the appeal is to be heard by all the judges of the Marion superior court, sitting as a court of equity, without a jury. When a railroad files an appeal the rate fixed by the commission is held up pending a decision, but the railroad must file with the court a bond to cover the difference between the new rate and the old as it effects all interested shippers.

Such shippers, pending the decision of the appeal, are to be given certificates by the railroad, amounting in effect to promissory notes for the difference the rate paid and the one fixed by the commission. If the court of appeals affirms the finding of the commission, then the railroad company must pay to each holder of a certificate the amount called for, representing the difference between the old rate and the new.

The members of the commission shall be three in number, but no conditions of membership—as to railroad or shipping interests—are imposed. They are to be appointed, one for four years, one for three years and the third for two years, but always thereafter for four years.

The Legislature Hard at Work.

There were evidences of something doing in the general assembly during all of last week. The daytime sessions were prolonged, and the evening hours were occupied by the deliberations of committees. Both houses remained in session until Saturday noon, instead of indulging in the usual Friday evening adjournment, which has probably gone out of date for the present session.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

THE $50,000 STOCK OF MERCHANDISE OWNED BY SHERA & McINTOSH, Connersville, Indiana,

Has fallen into the hands of Stevens & Co., of Chicago, and will be sold in the city of Connersville, at a great sacrifice. The doors are now open and the sale will commence at 8 a. m. daily. Music, if you like it, but the most attractive feature of this great Adjustment Sale is the price. A deep cut has been made on entire stock in order to sell it quickly. This means a great saving to you in staple goods, such as Dry Goods, Millinery, Furs, Separate Skirts, Corsets, Gloves, Laces, Velvets, Fine Linens, Dress Goods, Rugs, Matting, Lace Curtains, China, Glassware, Gents' Furnishings, etc. Supply your wants for a year or two while this matter is being adjusted by the mediators in charge.

Old clerks will be retained and a large force of new ones will be on hand to assist in caring for the crowds and their wants. Come and see what Stevens & Co. have done to the store. Come from miles away and see a bit of Chicago life while you load up with bargains. This great sale will continue every day until goods are sold, or matters adjusted to entire satisfaction of all parties interested.

G. F. STEVENS, Adjuster in Charge.

COUNTY NEWS

Glenwood.

It snows, cries the school boy! It snows because we need it.

All of the teachers of this place attended the institute at Rushville last Saturday and were on time, too!

Mr. Verne Norris a township trustee attended the institute—just what all of them ought to do.

Many of our citizens are complaining with the grip.

THE ST. LOUIS FAIR

The tail end of the St. Louis fair was not as pleasant as its opening celebration. For instance: The Tyrolean Alps owe the Exposition company $75,000, and all of the Pike people are delinquent in sums ranging from $2600 to $60,000 each. The whole amount reaches the snug sum of $398,000. And now the Exposition company is trying to get as much money as they can out of the show men.

There will be a Sunday school convention held at the M. E. church next Sunday. A good program has been prepared which includes good speakers and good singing. All who can are urged to be present.

We would be glad to see an ordinance in effect here compelling citizens to keep their sidewalks clear of snow. Ours is clean and we think others can keep theirs free if they try. Try it and just see how much easier it will be to travel on our sidewalks.

The cold weather of the past few days has created a fair demand for wood and coal.

Mr. M. A. Reddick, who has had an attack of tonsillitis, is better.

During this cold weather if you will drop in some of our stores and get close to the circle around the stove you will be surprised how easily weighty questions are disposed of. War, finance, religion, politics or anything you want settled will be disposed of any time you wish by parties who are experts at the business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson had all their children home on Sunday at their residence on North Jefferson street.

The Way of the Cross.

(Elmer Hufford.)

The following poem was submitted by Elmer Hufford, who desires us to aid in finding the owner of the poem. Mr. Hufford, in part, says: "The enclosed lines were written some years ago, but a kind of a vague doubt of ownership, together with a belief that had read them somewhere has kept them in my desk. If you can find the owner by publication you will do me a favor." The owner of the poem can secure the same from Mr. Hufford.

As we turn the dusty pages
Of the world's antiquity,
We behold the race in bondage,
Worse than chains and slavery.

Men are bound by hoary customs,
Sacred as their fathers' shrine;
Mind enthralled, they live as captives
To their reverence for time.

From the knight within his castle
To the king upon his throne,
From the beggar by the highway
To the proudest lord of Rome.

All must look upon the present
Through the glory that is gone,
Till their day is closed for action,
And the farce of life is done.

Truth must step aside for error,
Faith give way to doubt and gloom;
For a John there is a Herod
For the Christ there is a tomb.

For the love that caused the wonder
Of the realm where angels dwell,
Hate of man in foul derision
Gave the shame of deepest hell.

He who dares to have convictions
In the face of customs old,
Writes his name among the martyrs,
For a fame not bought with gold.

Writes his name with his own life-blood
For the truth he raised to view,
Till the light of coming ages
Crown his head with honors new.

Thus it ever was and will be
For the one who steadfast stands,
Bears the scars upon his forehead,
And the nail-prints in his hands.

Would you see the world made better,
Take the way our Saviour trod;
Sacrifice for truth and honor
Bring it nearer unto God.

PEACE RUMORS

Possibility of War's Cessation is Again Discussed.

London, Feb. 7.—Considerable speculation has been caused here by the fact that the Russian government on Monday assumed control of the Siberian telegraph lines from 8 a. m. till 4 p. m. It is said to be the first occasion in which communication has thus been stopped since the war began. Various possible causes are discussed, such as the extension of the strike movement to the Siberian railroad and important correspondence with General Kuropatkin. Little attention is paid here to rumors of peace mediation, but the Chronicle's St. Petersburg correspondent sends the statement, which, however, is not confirmed in other dispatches, that the recent conferences of the grand ducal party to consider the far Eastern prospects arrived at an agreement as to the desirability of ending the war and that the rumor of General Kuropatkin's resignation was started to facilitate negotiations for peace.

Gripenberg Quits the Field.
Russian Headquarters, Huan Mountain, Feb. 7.—Lieutenant General

GENERAL GRIPENBERG.
Gripenberg, former commander of the Second Manchurian army, has left here for St. Petersburg.

Improving at Lodz.

Lodz, Feb. 7.—There are still a few slight disturbances, but the situation has improved though it is still complicated, owing to the lack of harmony among the masters, some of whom are willing to make concessions, while others wish to close their works. The governor, however, has ordered that all factories open today to give the men an opportunity to return to work. The men also are divided, Germans being willing to return to work while Poles refuse to do so.

No Case of Mutiny.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—The report published in the United States of a mutiny of 6,000 reservists at Peterhoff who are said to be under arrest in their barracks, is grossly exaggerated. As a matter of fact there has been some dissatisfaction, but no case of open mutiny.

Preparing Naval Reinforcements.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—The dockyard authorities at Cronstadt are completing preparations for active service of the new battleships for the second division of the Third Russian Pacific squadron. These reinforcements are expected to sail at the end of May.

Situation at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Feb. 7.—The town is quiet. The workmen of the large factories and bakeries are still on strike, the masters refusing to concede their demands. Soldiers are still operating the gas works.

Torpedo Factory Resumes.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Lessner's torpedo factory here has resumed work. The managers dismissed the employees in obedience to Governor General Trepoff's orders and then re-engaged them.

Moscow, Feb. 7.—The strike of streetcar conductors here has ended. The municipality granted all the demands of the men.

The Ananias club held a heated discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of a tariff revision at the present time.

The Rushville Concert Band will hold its weekly rehearsal tonight. Every member is requested to be present so that a good rehearsal may be held.

T. A. Coleman, together with the other members of the joint legislative committee, went before the Finance Committee of the Senate and the Ways and Means Committee of the House yesterday and urged the merits of their bill to appropriate $25,000 for agricultural experiment work at Lafayette. The Finance Committee reported unanimously in favor and Ways and Means Committee reported eight for and five against the bill, the Democratic members opposing the measure.

Shelbyville Republican: This city is now experiencing a wood famine. About every wood-yard in Shelbyville has disposed of all its wood for cooking stoves and many people are compelled to use either green wood on their gas in the cook stoves or else use coal for cooking purposes. The famine has raised the price of wood. Ten days ago it was selling at $3 per double cord, and at the present time it is being sold at $4.50 per double cord.

NO GAMBLING AT LACKY SALE

A "special" from Cambridge City to the Richmond Palladium says that for the first time in the history of the Lackey horse sale there will be no liquor sold or gambling on the grounds where the classic horse event of Eastern Indiana takes place. This is the edict that has been handed down by Prosecuting Attorney Wilfred Jessup. The officials connected with the sale and the small army of poker sharks and faro experts, who annually reap in a golden harvest at the sale, have taken the prosecutor at his word. While the stand Mr. Jessup has taken may "quell" him with a certain class in that city, his vigorous action is applauded by the better class who have long opposed the "open town" system in vogue at the annual Lackey horse sales.

THE ORATORIO

Immense Audience Greeted
the Production of "The Daughter of Jairus"

The oratorio, "The Daughter of Jairus," given last night at the Main Street Christian church, deserves the praise of all the music loving citizens of our city, for it was certainly a fine musical production.

The evening's entertainment opened with the singing of Dudley Buck's "Festival Te Deum," a work marvelously beautiful in itself and admirably rendered.

"The Daughter of Jairus" especially pleased the audience. The music itself was wonderfully adapted to the story it told, and the oratorio was sung in a most artistic style showing ability and faithful work on the part of the soloists, the chorus, and its conductor, B. F. Miller.

The soloists, Miss Ida Mariah Spurrier, soprano; Claude B. Thomas, tenor; Jesse Pugh, baritone, and B. F. Miller, tenor, delighted the audience with their interpretation and rendition of the pieces. A duet, "Love Divine," sung by Miss Spurrier, and Mr. Miller was especially deserving of the applause with which it was greeted.

Throughout the entire evening J. Riley Small handled the organ with remarkable skill, and his accompaniments made one of the most pleasing and attractive features of the piece.

The large audience in attendance at the production of "The Daughter of Jairus," marks the people's interest and appreciation of the attempts made by Mr. Miller and the remainder of the singers to give the city the opportunity of hearing the oratorio. The step is admirable and is deserving of the support and praise of the entire city.

Those who took part in the production of the oratorio were the Misses Ida Mariah Spurrier, Bertha Megee, Martha Hogsett, Inez E. Abbott, Orma A. Innis, Lucia Wilson, Nannie Hogsett, Carrie B. Lambert, Ruth M. Tevis, Hazel D. Spurrier, Mae McFarlan, Alice Norris, Mae Behout and Mrs. Lida A. Clore, and Messrs. W. P. Jay, F. R. McClanahan, T. A. Craig, Joseph B. Kinsinger, Claude B. Thomas, Harry Lucas, Bert Kennedy, Ernest B. Thomas, Lincoln Guffin, Harry Kennedy, Jesse Pugh.

CHURCH NEWS

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Presbyterian church met this afternoon with Mrs. H. E. Barrett at her home on North Harrison street.

AT THE CITY OPERA HOUSE

Julia Gray, a clever young leading lady of Mr. Carter's new play, "Her Only Sin," is one of the few hits last season is a native of England. She has been on the stage only five years and to have attained in that time a leading role in a drama like "Her Only Sin," shows her to be possessed of unusual ability. Her father was English, and her mother French, a combination well calculated to result in artistic temperament. She was ever fond of the stage, and has enacted many difficult parts which will serve as a foundation for many a future triumph.

Through Mr. Beerbohm Tree, the noted English actor, she was brought to the notice of Mr. Carter and how well he has furnished a proper vehicle in "Her Only Sin," to display her exceptional talents has been emphasized by the enthusiastic audiences which have greeted this popular young actress.

Her rapid rise has encouraged Miss Gray to dreams of future triumphs, in emotional leads.

In that difficult field many are called and few are chosen, but she thinks that where Julia Marlowe and Mrs. Leslie Carter have led the way, another may follow.

"Her Only Sin" will be an offering at the city opera house on Thursday night.
